Professional Summary

As a current part time employee of the Museum of Transportation I have appeared in a promotional video for the museum. "The Power to Move You" is the name of the video. The video is currently on the Museum's website and runs continuously in the visitor's center.

I have also made a voice over spot for the Museum of Transportation about the Union Pacific Centennial engine. I have a voice over demo listed on Clayton Studio's website.

As a member of the train crew at the Museum I act a tour guide of the various artifacts we pass on the train.

I have successfully lead educational classes at work and I still lead educational classes at various churches and community centers.

I have 39 years experience in the printing and photo business for NGA. I was promoted to shift leader then promoted into lower management as a shift supervisor. I held meetings and preformed training sessions for new projects and equipment.

I was also a professional freelance photographer during those years. Wedding photography was my specialty. I dealt with my customers personally and handled my sales and did my promotions. I am now retired from the printing and photographic industries.

I am a successful leader and know how to instruct people in the correct and best way to accomplish their tasks. And, I have demonstrated the ability to follow instructions as I am requested to do so.
